Could you save 5 shots per round?

Let's get that putter working for you

If you struggle to make enough 6, 8, 10 and 12-foot putts on a flat lie, there's a real possibility that your putter is getting in the way of your fun. If you're struggling, then set up as shown below and try 10x10 foot putts (on a flat surface).

If you're feeling uncomfortable in this setup, or you're still struggling to sink enough straight-forward, flat putts, then try a putter with a shorter shaft. What happens then?

You might be very surprised.

Is 35" too long for you? The average shaft length on a putter is 35". That's too long for the majority of golfers. It's longer than the average putter length on the PGA Tour. Can you get into a posture that allows you to setup correctly and deliver the putter face square at impact with 35"?

Get a check-up

Improving your ability to square the putter face at impact will take up to 5 shots off your scorecard. There are some simple keys to that improvement. Set up and putter are part of that equation. So come and see us.

The Srixon Z 585: Distance and feel

A compact look. A great sound. A soft, buttery feel. But the Srixon Z 585 is an iron we'd recommend for golfers looking for improved consistency and distance.

BETTER IS GREAT

Better is more enjoyment. Better is more excitement. Better is more rewarding. Better is a look of surprise on your playing partner's face. Better is a challenge faced and an accomplishment made.

Start a journey

Golf is even more fun when it's a journey somewhere. It's more than playing. It's about growing and improving and mastering a new skill. Speak to us about our 'Play Nine Together' or 'Personal Assessment' and we'll show you a pathway to better.
