

When I was young, I used to dream about owning the Club where my father was the professional. Obviously that Club was Zwartkop and not in my wildest dreams did I ever think that might actually happen. Well it did, and yesterday was the 19th Anniversary of the Hayes family buying Zwartkop Country Club.

We promised then that it would always remain a Club of members and I believe we have kept that promise. I hope you agree that we have a happy Club.

The old saying of “you can’t please everybody all of the time” is 100% correct, no matter how hard you try, but we do have a large percentage of members who are loyal and have been at the Club for 5, 10, 20 years – and even some who have been here for over 40 and 50 years, so we hope we are doing somethings right.

The last seven months have been very difficult but the pleasure of seeing all the golfers arrive back here after 3 months in lockdown, was terrific.

I would like to thank you all for the way in which you have accepted the “new normal” for golf. On Monday we opened the Clubhouse again and we are now able to serve food, so we look forward to more golfers staying around after golf and enjoying the social interaction which we have all been missing.

*To all our members we say, Welcome Home!

Stay safe by keeping up your social distancing, sanitizing and wearing a mask!

No more three putts.

Could this be why you slipped by?

The face angle of your putter at contact has between 80 and 95% influence on the launch direction of your putt. That means a tiny error could cause you to slip by the hole, even with great tempo. When the face has such a huge impact on your putting accuracy, we need to square that face.

Club path also affects accuracy, albeit less than face angle. For instance, if you have a slightly closed face angle but an in-to-out path, you could still launch the ball straight. Other factors to consider are lie angle and contact point. There's a lot going on here, that's why it's best to get your putter fitted for your stroke and setup.

No more surprise misses

Consistent putting transforms your golf experience. Sometimes it means a birdie. Often it's a solid par. But it's always satisfying being able to stand over every putt with confidence. Let's schedule a putting assessment for when you're next at the course. And in the meantime, we can give you some drills to do at home.

Go the distance.

Struggling to go further?

We get lots of golfers coming to us with concerns about losing distance despite no obvious swing and/or equipment changes. We like to take a holistic approach to solve this problem.

Long drives come in three

Using a combination of fitting and swing assessment techniques, we'll make sure that the following trio of impact factors are helping you go the full distance.

Clubhead speed

The speed of the clubhead immediately before impact.

Smash factor

The amount of energy transferred from clubhead to ball at impact.

Ball speed

The speed of the ball directly after impact.

How much further could you go?
