And on Thursday evening, let us keep you informed about the Rules.

Thursday, 29 September - 18h00 for 18h30

It's always good to get the inside track on the golf rules. Instead of asking “Piet Pompies” for his take on the rules, rather get the right answer from the horse's mouth.

Golf RSA's Neil Homann, the Manager of Golf Ops, Rules and Training, will be here next Thursday for an informal but informative chat about the Rules, so come down to get your questions answered.

Singles Club

Diarise that the next Singles Club will be played on Sunday, 9 October. It is open to Single Figure handicappers only!

You're in charge

The setup of your equipment, the way you're delivering club face to ball, determines what happens next. Let's make sure you enjoy what happens next by ensuring your clubs and golf ball fit your game.

Breaking 90

“Love your wedges”

On the way to being able to breaking 90, you must be able to shoot under 54 from 70 metres in over 18 holes. (If you missed our explanation of a strategy to break 90

That means you need to love your wedges. Four factors to consider:

"Most of you are playing with too few wedges. What's the loft on your pitching wedge and your sand wedge? Almost certainly you need a loft in between."

"The most common final approach to the green is between 15 and 40 metres. Too many golfers decelerate and /or scoop this shot. Learn the correct technique."

"Despite your best efforts, you will find the greenside sand. Make it so that you have no doubt you'll get the ball up and onto the green in the right area."
