Find your flow state

You can create calm confidence

No matter how daunting the shot, a consistent pre-shot routine will give you the calming confidence to step up and execute.

Overcome any obstacle

Know exactly how you're going to prepare for each shot: assess the lie, select the club and shot you're going to play, rehearse your swing. All that goes a long way to putting you in a great frame of mind to play any shot confidently.

Rough, sand or water, it then doesn't matter what lies between you and the hole – you know you have it in you to pull off the shot.

Become calm and confident

Supreme confidence starts with a trustworthy pre-shot routine. We'll help you construct a trustworthy and thorough pre-shot routine that you can lean on, whatever the shot you face.

DRAIN MORE PUTTS WITH DIVIDE

Lining up your putts is a whole lot easier and more effective with Srixon's new Z-STAR DIVIDE.

Putting precision

A balancing act

You should weigh putter heads up against more than just their aesthetic appeal. Your future putting performance potentially hinges on the location of the weight within your putter head.

Matching stroke to weight

There are essentially two types of putters: face-balanced putters and toe-hang putters.

If you have a straight-back, straight-through stroke then a face-balanced putter can help you square the face and start your ball on the intended line more often. If there's more of an arc to your stroke, some degree of toe-hang can help you hit your desired line more often.

So, which is best for you? We'll help you figure that out.

Your perfect balance

Let's find a putter with weight placement that complements your stroke so you can enjoy draining more putts.
