Trackman is such a great way to spend time with your family.

There are games for the kids but also activities that will suit all of you and every level of golfer – most importantly it is great fun so come give it a try.

Nice to see PGA Honorary Life President Denis Hutchinson, and long-time PGA Professional Mike de Villiers visiting the range.

And what can we say about Padel

It has been fantastic to see so many varied ages making use of the courts.
Again all ability levels, all ages and all fitness levels can be accommodated.

The game of a lifetime

Full of life, for life

Here are three great reasons your children should learn to play golf.

First, it's a safe outdoor activity that gets them away from the pressures of an ever-faster digital life. Second, it's a skill they learn easily that gives access to a lifetime of fun and social connections. Third, and most importantly, it's something they can do with you until you're old and gray.

From 16 years old, junior golfers who started their journey at 6, move from learning to play, to what development models call "training to compete". This is when we fine-tune skills and start incorporating competitive elements into coaching.

Get your children into golf

We want your children to fall in love with the game. We want them to have a lifetime of healthy, outdoors enjoyment for themselves and their families. If you have a child or grandchild, let's get them started on the journey of a lifetime.

Get them started

It's possible to enjoy both forgiveness and workability in a single iron set with the progressive design of the Srixon ZX Mk II Irons.

The missing link

Make a material change to your ball-striking

Shafts that feel and perform how you want may be the missing link to better ball-striking, but is graphite or steel the best solution for you? Keep your mind and options open!

Feel great, perform even better

There's a misconception that graphite is only for slow-swinging players but graphite is great if you're in need of a little more air-time throughout the bag. We all love hitting more greens and graphite promotes a higher, more reliable flight with your longer clubs. They also feel fantastic because they absorb the vibrations generated through impact.

Find a deeper connection

If you're the type of player who, for better or worse, wants to feel each and every strike in their hands, then steel may still be the way to go. Plus, if you have the clubhead speed and skill for it, you may find it easier to shape the ball with steel shafts.

Come for a fitting, put performance above perception, and we'll put you on a launch monitor to assess the shaft material that helps you achieve a strikingly consistent shot dispersion, no matter the club.
