Let us help you play better golf

This is your last golf tip for the year – and it's a goodie – and hopefully it will have you playing better golf going into the New Year.

Duane gives you a “bucket drill” to help you set the club in the right position at the top of the swing, which in turn will help you to release the club better.

Duane Keun is the Head Teaching Professional at Zwartkop. You can contact him on 078-459-1549.

Make a Christmas wish...

I wish for...

More than a fitting

It's closer to the pin that counts

Last week we described how your grip size and your lie angles can impact on your performance. If you missed that, you can read it now.

If we mention a golf shaft, most golfers think we're going to talk about how much distance we can add with the right shaft. We can add distance, but with your irons, we're probably more concerned with accuracy and the angle of descent on your approach shots (to give them stopping power).

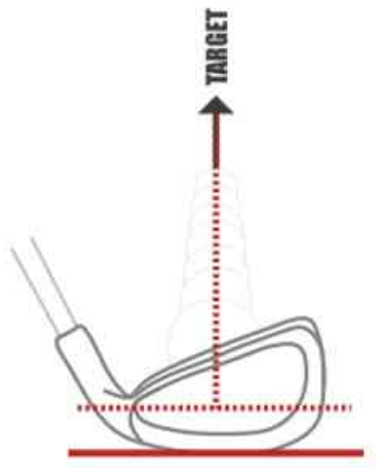

If your iron shaft is too flexible, then you're going to have a dispersion pattern that's all over the place.

Every shot is a surprise!

A shaft that is too stiff will almost certainly have you fighting a fade that can become a slice or sometimes a pull. Again, you're not sure whether to aim left or right.

"Also be aware of the impact a shaft length can have on your ability to square the face at impact with the sole parallel to the turf. Accuracy can be significantly reduced by the wrong shaft length. Is it sensible that golfers who have a variation in height of sometimes as much as 15 cm (and even more) should play with the same length shaft?"

The gift we can give you

We want to change the experience with your irons out on the golf course.

We coach and we 'fit'. It's what we're trained to do. Cameras and technology make it easier than ever for us to diagnose a challenge. From there the right fitting: grip size, lie angles, shaft length, shaft type and flex; allows us to make it as easy as possible for you to hit better golf shots.

Duca Del Cosma: Love at first step

Find your perfect pair

For your golf ball

Fill a stocking

Every great Christmas needs a special gift
(even if you buy it for yourself).

And every great golf ball needs a great playing partner.

The beauty of the Srixon ZX Range is that there's a match for the game you play.

The ZX7 MKII has minimal offset, narrow sole, short blade, and thin topline. The best ball strikers in the club will enjoy these.

The ZX5 MKII offers good ball strikers a little more consistency and a little more length.

Maximised forgiveness in a good-looking iron offering the confidence of a longer blade length and thicker topline in the ZX4 MKII irons.

| Can we help?

Finding you the best game for your swing is our job. We fit. We coach. We connect. We care.
